HAVE ENDEAVORED TO INDUCE CERTAIN managers of theatres to respect my property in plays entitled "The Colleen Bawn," "The Octoroo "The Life of an Actress," "Dot," "The Streets of N York," "Arrah na Pogue," and others well known them to be American Copyrights. As they are unwill to do so I find myself obliged to take legal steps to ase to do so I that myent conget to the hundred dramas of mine, my rights.

There are some two or three hundred dramas of mine, English Copyrights, of which they have had the free use during the last thirty years. The public will surely agree with me that the harvest managers have reaped on my pieces since "London Assurance" in 1841 to the present day might have prompted them to respect to the present day might have prompted them to respect my property in those few American copyrights I possess.
